Experience

Full Stack Developer, Henry, Remote

marzo 2022 - enero 2023

-Design and development full stack of web page using React, Redux, Express.js and Sequelize to allow users to view countries with information and ability to create tourist activities, to one or several countries simultaneously, filters and search.

-Design, development, leadership and organization of a website for a veterinary clinic with registration capacity, login by email, possibility of adding a professional to favorites, third-party verification, possibility of requesting medical appointments for pets and payment with mercadopago. My greatest contribution was leading and organizing the working group (8 people), as well as managing GitHub, solving bugs and advising my other colleagues.
